

Current Event processing

*In this context, PowerHA event means the event scripts that are either called directly from a recovery program, or called from another event script using `clcallev`.

Proposed Event processing

